FinOps

Innovation Funding Model

Prioritize through:

- Application reviews
- Moving from a project mindset to a product culture
- Cost of delay
- Decide on the why of moving to Cloud, how it will help, and what tasks will accomplish your goal

Digital Cloud Operating Readiness

- Which business workloads are most important to your company?
- What are your goals by business line for the next quarter and year?
- What are your obstacles to these goals?
- What are your strengths for achieving these goals?

FinOps and Product Owners

- There is no shortcut or alternative to having Product Owners
- Cloud offers the capability of completing altering the way you use technology
- Security and continuity are other strengths of the cloud
- How about regulations?
- Micro services and containers

The Offerings: Jira & Confluence

The screenshot shows the Jira 'Board' view for a project named 'Teams in Space'. The left sidebar contains navigation links: Teams in Space, Scrum: Teams in S..., Roadmap, Backlog, Active sprints (highlighted), Reports, Issues, Components, Releases, Project pages, Add item, and Project settings. The main area is titled 'Board' and displays three columns: 'TO DO 5', 'IN PROGRESS 5', and 'CODE REVIEW 2'. Each column contains task cards with details like 'Engage Jupiter Express for outer solar system travel', 'Requesting available flights is now taking > 5 seconds', and 'Engage Saturn Shuttle Lines for group tours'. Each card includes a status label (e.g., 'SPACE TRAVEL PARTNERS', 'LOCAL MARS OFFICE'), a progress indicator, and a due date.

Other App Cloud Offerings

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `atlassian.com/try`. The page features the Atlassian logo and navigation links for Products, For teams, and Support. A prominent blue banner at the top reads: "Introducing Point A, our program for bringing new products to life—and you're invited to join us on the journey. Explore new products→". Below this, the main heading is "Try Atlassian's suite of products for free", followed by the subtext "Our cloud products empower teams of all types, from startup to enterprise." Three key benefits are highlighted with icons: 1. "Collaborate seamlessly across cross-functional teams, at scale" (represented by a network diagram icon). 2. "Built with industry-leading privacy, security, and data control" (represented by a shield with a key icon). 3. "Customize your products with 1,000+ apps and integrations" (represented by a puzzle piece icon). At the bottom left, the text "Plan & Track" is visible.
